on Wednesday Feb. 22:-The more hopeful tone of the cotton markets which came into evidence last week has been strengthened by several factors. Chief amongst these have been improved reports from textile centres both here and in America. Krull Lympum March 29th Malaya clearly has but one thought to-day and that is to make gala is bonour of the Prince of Wales. What though the gigantic rubber forests are pouring forth upon an idle market or that tin is only mentioned as a about pini reminiscence?

These are troubles of vesterday and of to-morrow. To-day's preocupation is the Frince Knala Lumpur, of course, broke loose in contagious loyalty at six o'clock last night when the Prince of Wales motored into her radiant heart. At ten the Chinese, forming half the population, treated the Prince to a torchlight procession two miles long which he witnessed from the illuminated verandah of the Selangor Club. Many wondrons devices moved slowly nast to monotonous music in which the c'ashing of cymbals dominated. These included miniature joss houses, tiny tes pavilious occupied by smiling damsels, grouns of animal representatives amongst which was a dragon 200 feet long with transparent interior ablaze with Chinese. anterns. Every type and age stalked; along in vivid coloured national colours, all bearing aloft white silken transparencies with messages of welcome illuminated from within or immense hanners poised on lofty hamboos by single staggering men. The background of variegated festoons and the illuminations of the streets greatly enhanced the fantastie picture.

But much more wonderful than the spectacle itself was the warmth of loyalty! expressed. The Chinese is not much given to demonstration but he showed a remarkable understanding of the art of cheering on this occasion. Boys and girls from schools, marshalled by long robed teachers, sang quaint songs of welcome specially composed. Grave looking elders in gandy, canonied care kowtowed profound'y while passing the Prince who stood for half an hour watching the fascinating pageant and then returned to

DESPERATE STRUGGLE WITH ARMED MAN.

POLICE INSPECTOR WOUNDED.

ALLEGED NOTORIOUS ROBBER CAPITIZED.

A noterious Yaumati robber named In Yan who has made himself a terror to the Chinese in that district has at last been captured, it is believed. A man said by the police to be Ip Yan is now in jail pending his pearapance before a magistrate. The capture was effected by the Yanmat police in Portland Street last night. Receiving information that armed men were meeting in Portland Street prior to a robbery planned for 8.30 p.m., Sub Inspector Field, Detective Sergeant Dorling and a party of armed Chinese detectives lay in hiding for the robbers, unaware, of course, that one of the gang was Yau. Pres: ntly one man made appearance, and movements having aroused the suspicion of the! watchers, two Chinese detectives pounced on him from behind. A powerfully built man, the captive struggled violently. Inspector Field fearing that he would break away from the Chinese detectives, dashed out of his biding place to their assistance. The captive made a quick movement with his right hand? towards his girdle. Taking no chances, Inspector Field drew his own revolver and closed with the man.

A fi ree struggle followed before the captive's arms were pinned to his sides. Meanwhile Inspector Field's revolver must have become uncoked for there was a sudden report. The shot passed unnoticed at the time, and the desperate struggle continued. When the captive was eventualy overpowered, Inspector Field took a fully loaded five-chambered 38 Smith Weston revolver from his girdle. The prisoner was removed to the station still strughing so violently that it required four men to hold

In the meantime the revolver report had widently warned the prisoner's confederates, for Sergeant Dorling and some of the Chinese detectives kept watch for half an hour without success. It was not until the prisoner! had been placed in a cell at the Yauusti police station, that Inspector Field became aware of a sharp burning pain in his left thigh. His leg was examined and the discovery of a bullet wound in the fleshy part was the first indication he had that he had been shot by his own revolver. Entering near the edge of his trousers pocket, the bullet shattered his whistle and then entered the thigh, emerging at the side of the leg. Dr. Smalley was at once summoned and after he had dressed the wound, the Inspector was removed in the police launch to the Government Civil Hospital. The wound, which had perforated about three inches of flesh, is not considered serious, as no muscle was injured. though, of course, there is the danger of some of the metal from the whistle having been driven into it, in which case an operation would have to be performed

When brought to the station, the prisoner gave his name as Chan Yau. but the police assert that they subsequently received information that he is Ip Yau, the terror of Yanmati as the leader of a daring gang of robbers.

Mr. D'Almada quoted a number co Mr. Parr moved the second reading cases in support of his contention and . Honour, after hearing the of the bill amending the Hongkong evidence, decided to reserve judgment.

> There appears to have been much controversy in Vancouver and Seattle concerning the record time for crossing the Pacific, owing to a ship coming in with a broom at the mast head, which was regarded as a claim to have broken the record. This is still held by the "Empress of Russia," of the Canadian Pacific fleet, which crossed from Yoko hams to Williams Head in 8 days, 18 hours and 31 minutes. This was on May 30, 1914. The "Empress of Asia" made the Trans-Pacific run in S days 21 hours and 4 minutes, with her arrival on June 30, 1919. Just what time"the "Empress of Canada" will make is not known but it is expected that the new liner will "walk away" from all craft on the Pacific Coast. Perhaps the broom at the mast-head was only meant, like the P. & O. Co.'s cock, to indicate that the ship bearing it was the record-holder of the company to which she belonged.
